(Lil' Lucifer AU/Forsaken AU)Amnesiac Michael(Journey to the West crossover): Story concept + oneshots

by SayuriFanficWorld

Summary

UPDATE: What if sequel AU: Lego Monkie Kid crossover

I am a fan of brightgoat's "Lil' Lucifer AU" and camodielsart's "Forsaken AU" on tumblr and got stories ideas of thoses AUs for a long time.

Unfortunately, due to a "plot bunnies problem" which mean like bunnies who reproduce in huge number, when I got a idea for a story thousand of ideas come next, I was never able to make actual stories with thoses ideas.

But I wanted to share them anyway, so I decide to post them, as concepts and as some oneshots.

I'm also a big crossover fan so expecte many of thoses ideas to be crossover.

P.S:If you want to use those concepts go ahead! Just don't forget to credite me and Brightgoat and Camodielsart! :)

WARNING: English is not my first language so sorry if my english is confusing!

Notes

Okay here the first Story concept for this collection!

This story concept is about archangel Michael who lost his memory and get send to the "Journey to the West" world I hope you will like it!

Li' Lucifer AU belong to Brightgoat

Forsaken AU belong to camodielsart

Journey to the West belong to Wu Cheng En

Cuphead belong to Studio MDHR

Story concept

So Michael is sent to fight a group of demons, during the fight Michael gets badly injured including a bad head wound and by some weird black magic mojo used by the demons a rift in the space time continuum is created and sends Michael to another world.

This new world is the world of "Journey to the West" and takes place after Sun-Wukong's exile and his return into Sanzang's group, they found a strange winged being badly wounded and unconscious and Sanzang, being the kind hearted monk, he decides to help him.

Unfortunately when he wakes up, the mysterious being doesn't remember anything about who or what he is, where he came from or even his own name, the group wants to help him but doesn't know how, this is when the Bodhisattva Guanyin appears and reveals to them the amnesiac being is a celestial from another realm due to his holy energy but doesn't know from what realm and so to send him back home he must get his memory back.

To accomplish this there is in the Thunderclap monastery, where Sanzang and his disciples must go for their quest, a magical scroll with a great healing power which can heal the celestial's amnesia and so Guanyin offers a deal : the amnesiac celestial (Michael) will come with the group and help to protect Sanzang during the journey to the Thunderclap monastery and in return he will get the scroll that will heal his amnesia and be sent back where he came from.

Sanzang is reluctant because it makes him feel like they profit from the celestial's amnesia for the benefits of the journey but Guanyin convinces him there is no other way.

And so the celestial joins the group and is named "Hào" as a temporary name and from here is the start of a long quest where "Hào" will live a true in-depth journey about who he is and through the few memories he will get back during the journey confront his darkest inner demons.

Idea details :

-God knows where Michael is and is aware of his "amnesia situation" but does nothing about it because to him this is an opportunity to see how Heaven will do without Michael around.

-In Heaven the angels are very distraught about Michael's disappearance, he just disappears like that and they don't know how to deal with it. (Yes even Raziel)

-Hào (Michael) during the journey gets elements of his memory back because of things and people who triggered them. Example: Sun Wukong triggers Hào's memories of Lucifer when he was younger because the two of them share a resemblance in personality since both are prideful and mischievous and both of them tried to win a war against their respective Heaven but failed and got punished for it.

-Hào will have different kinds of relationships with Sanzang's group : with Sanzang it's a typical master/disciple relationship Sanzang considers him as one of his best disciples since he actually tries to not get in trouble and make sure his others' brothers' don't get in trouble either. He gets along quite well with Wujin/Sandy because of his calm and kind personality. He is very annoyed by Baji/Pigsy's shenanigans and keeps often an eye on him, thus his perverted attitude will not get the group in trouble. But the one he gets along the most in the group is Sun Wukong due to the fact his personality reminds him someone who he was very close to (Lucifer) but can't tell who due to his amnesia.

-During his adventure, Hào will experience many emotions especially companionship and will bond with Sanzang and the others' disciples.

-Hào is often called "youngest brother" by the others' disciples since he is the last one to join the group.

-He will follow Sanzang's "not killing" motto, he will fight demons who try to kidnap his master but will kill only in last resort much to Sun Wukong's dismay.

-A few of the memories Hào will get back will not show his past-self in a good light and with him adopting Sanzang's "kill is bad whatever the reason is" logic, Hào will become afraid of who he was and see his past-self as a monster. With the help of his "master" and "brothers" he will have to learn to face his doubts and fears about his forgotten past.

-Some demons will try to use Hào's fears against him to get their claws on Sanzang.

-While fighting demons Hào will use a Guandao, which is a traditional Chinese weapon which consists of a heavy blade with a spike at the back and which is more used for defence than attack.

-During the "women's land" arc he will get close with a woman soldier who will fall in love with him and will profit from the queen's desire to marry Sanzang to try to marry Hào but will eventually let him go in the end when she realises Hào needs to finish the journey and also because he is an immortal their love is impossible. She will kiss him as a "farewell" and give him one of her hairpins so he will always remember her.

-This story idea set in two "books" : the first one follows Hào's adventure in Journey to the West and the second one follows Michael after he gets his memory back and gets back to his world as a "changed man" but will see his world changed too and not in a good way as the story will be set in the "Forsaken AU".

-In the second book Michael will have to deal with his home destroyed, what remains of his siblings being deceived and to have the courage to face and have a heart-to-heart with Lucifer.

-During those events Michael will be very pissed off at God for trying to kill all his family when they were nothing but loyal to him and will even scream a big "the reason why you suck" speech in his rage against his father.

-Michael decides to stay undercover until the right moment to reveal himself at his siblings' come.

-Lucifer wasn't aware of Michael's disappearance until the beginning of "forsaken au" and he is not pleased with that, under the pretext he wanted to be the one to "kick Michael's butt" but in reality the sudden disappearance of a powerful angel like Michael worry him. What if it's happen to demons or even himself? But deep inside he may be a little worried about Michael's safety, not like he will admit it or something.

-A demon which Michael fought in the Journey to the West world hold a huge grudge against him for the humiliation of his defeat and will find a way to go where Michael is to get his revenge.

-Sun Wukong will appear to give a helping hand at Michael to defeat the demon.

oneshot: A talk in the night

Chapter Notes

First oneshot for my "amnesiac Michael" concept have a good reading! :)

Hào woke up brutally and in a hurry looked around himself. He stayed like this for a few minutes before relaxing himself and sighing, he was having those strange dreams once again.

It was few weeks since he had been found by master Sanzang and his disciples and joined their group for their quest and to be honest when he first met them things seemed to go so fast that he was completely confused. After all a lot of things happened to him in just one day.

First, he woke up in a strange place surrounded by strange people to learn he was found unconscious and badly injured.

Then, when he was asked who he was and where did he come from he wasn't able to answer and found out he doesn't remember a thing, a complete amnesia.

Then, a woman appeared out of nowhere and the strangers bowed before her which meant she was probably important so he did the same.

And then he learned the woman was a goddess who knew what he was, a celestial just like her, but not from the same universe and unfortunately she wasn't able to know where he came from and so can't send him back.

Finally, she announced she can send him back at the condition he get his memory back and for this there is apparently a "magic scroll" in a temple which can heal him and so she proposed him to go with the group who saved him and to help them during their journey to the temple, because apparently they must go to that temple too, and in return he get healed by the scroll and send back to his world.

He accepted, it's not like he has any other choice, after all he was in a world he knew nothing about while his "saviors", besides going to the same place than him, knew more about this world than him since they are natives so it was better to go the easy way.

And so here he was, travelling with a group of buddhists and a weapon called "Guandao" given to him. To be honest the situation wasn't that bad and he began to appreciate his companions.

"Master Sanzang" was very impressive for a mortal, he was very wise with a great knowledge about the meaning of life and most of all he was patient, VERY patient, so patient that it was a true achievement, especially when you saw the troublemakers who were supposed to be his disciples.

Talking about them, Wujin was okay, very nice and welcoming and having conversations with him was soothing even if he was often naïve.

Bajie was... well... annoying... It's not the pig was bad or anything he was kind of nice but his obsession with women was frustrating. More than one time he had to keep a eye on him when they come across a woman, there was even a time where he had to forcibly drag him back to their group when he tried to flirt with a married woman so they would not have to face the wrath of her husband. Seriously he was feeling like he became his babysitter. And there was Sun-Wukong. Normally, he would find the monkey as annoying as Bajie with his attitude, he was arrogant, prideful, rowdy and most of all impulsive.

But for some reason it doesn't bother him that much, in fact, every time Sun-Wukong was showing off he couldn't help it but smile with nostalgia. Like one time when Sun-Wukong challenged him for a race, he got a flash about someone looking similar to him and who was dared him to a race with the same determination and playfulness attitude as Sun-Wukong's and it was very familiar, just as the dreams he got every night.

Those dreams, it was always the same scene, he was in a very cloudy and bright place and he was surrounded by a large crowd of people who looked like him with their lamb head and wings, but because of the clouds and light he was unable to see their face. Then his vision became blurry and feel like he was fading away while someone screamed something but he can't hear it, and then he woke up.

He talked about all this to master Sanzang and the monk explained to him those dreams were probably elements of memories hidden deep inside and which appear because things or people triggered them.

Hào let out a heavy sigh before get up, he looked around and find Sun-Wukong nearby the camp, on lookout duty.

Not having anything else to do he walk to his eldest brother, who quickly turned around at the sound of somebody coming behind him only to calm down when he saw it was only Hào.

" -Youngest brother ! You're awake ?" Asked Sun-Wukong surprised to find one of his brothers not asleep.

" -Yeah, I wasn't able to sleep !" Hào answered quietly taking place beside Sun-Wukong.

" -The dreams again ?"

" -The dreams again !"

A long silence set in, none of the two was saying a thing until Sun-Wukong decided to break the ice.

" -You know... I'm not a " dreams expert" but I can say having the same dream every night is not normal." Sun-Wukong said with a distracted tone

" -I know, I spoke about it to master and according to him there's high chance those dreams are in fact elements of my memory which unconsciously appear." Explained Hào while staring the starry sky, he stayed silent for a few seconds and suddenly say." But to tell you the truth those " elements of memory" don't surface only in my dreams."

" -Really ? Sun-Wukong asked

" -Well, sometimes I have sort of flashes because of something or someone. You for exemple, there's time when I interact with you where I got memories of someone who had an attitude similar to your and I feel like I know this person !"

" -Eh, if I remind you such person then that they must be awesome ! After all I'm the handsome monkey king and the great sage equal to heaven if anyone is similar to me they must certainly be as amazing as me !" exclaimed Sun-Wukong puffing out his chest and holding his staff in pride while addressing a cocky smile.

Face to this obvious act of showing off Hào couldn't help it but smile at his eldest brother's antic. Really there's not a day without Sun-Wukong taking an opportunity to show how "great" he was, to him it was quit amusing.

" -Yes maybe." Then his thoughts got back to his amnesia, his mood fall down and he stared the ground, breathing a sad sigh." If only I was able to remember !"

" -Now now Hào don't be like this !" Exclaimed Sun-Wukong."Your amnesia is not a pleasant situation but not an hopeless one ! Don't forget the scroll at the thunderclap monastery, it can heal you !"

" -Yes but-

-No but !"Snapped the monkey king."Tell you what ? As the monkey king and great sage equal to Heaven, I make you the promise to give you moral support through our journey to the temple so you will never forget that you will get your memory at the end !"

" -You're not serious ?

" -I'm more than serious ! When I'm truly making promises I keep them ! What kind of king and sage I would be if I don't ?"

Both of them looked at each other before laughing, seriously Sun-Wukong was really something and his act made Hào feel better.

" -But you are serious ? About this promise ?" He asked to his brother.

" -Of course I am !" The monkey king confirmed."I will help you through this, you're my little brother, as the eldest it's my duty ! And there's also the Master, Wujin and Bajie, WE will all help you !"

When hearing this, Hào smiled a little.

" -Wukong ? Thank you !"

" -You're welcome ! Now how about I tell you about the time I defeated the strongest warriors of the Jade Palace ?"

" -Why not ? I'm not plaining to go back to sleep anyway !"

They stayed all night with Hào listening his brother's stories and in the morning, when the others woken up, they left once again to proceed their journey.

And in Hào's mind one thing was clear : whatever the hardship he will encounter, whatever what he will must face, he know he will always had Sun-Wukong and the others to support him.

oneshot: The plan

Chapter Notes

Second oneshot for the "amnesiac Michael" story concept! :)

See the end of the chapter for more notes

-ABSOLUTELY NOT !"

" -Come on Hào it's a foolproof plan !"

" -I don't care ! There is no way I'm doing this !"

Wujin and Bajie looked their eldest brother and youngest brother arguing for a time now and to be honest it's was really annoying.

All this mess started when their master got kidnapped, again, by a demon while they were doing an halt to rest and now they were trying to make a plan to rescue him. But there was a little problem.

" -All you have to do is to distract the demon so Wujin, Bajie and I can attack him directly and during that time you will be able to discretely free master, see ? Easy-peasy !" Explained Sun-Wukong, still trying to convince Hào of the flawless perfection of his plan.

" -Yeah but the" distract the demon" part of your plan consist of ME turning myself into a WOMAN and SEDUCING THE DEMON !" Stated sturbbornly Hào having none of it. Lowering himself by seducing the monster who kidnapped they master ? No way ! Even if it's just for a distraction tactic.

Finally, after a few more minutes of arguing, Bajie had enough and decided to interverne, trying to sound serious and responsible.

" -Look youngest brother, eldest brother say this plan is the only way to save master ! I understand this is not a pleasant situation but we don't had any other choice ! ALL of us must play our part whatever we like it or not!"

" -This is the pot calling the kettle black and you know it second brother. A few moments ago you tried to convince eldest brother to let you" scouting" the place instead of attacking so you would not had to fight because, as usual, you are too afraid ! And by the way if you're so scared to fight this demon why aren't you the one who had to distract him ? You're a shapshifter too aren't you ? Hào asked looking at Bajie suspiciously.

" -Hum... w-well uh... You s-see... the thing is..." Bajie spluttered looking at random directions to finally stared at Wujin with a pleading look, hoping his third brother will give him a kind of help.

Luckily for him, Wujin seemed to get it and immediately turned to Hào looking at him with a pleading glance.

" -Please youngest brother ! I know this is a hard thing to do but it's the best plan we had to save master, we don't had time to make another one, who know what he must go through at the times we speak !"

Great now Hào felt guilty, he wanted to save the master but it can be done other way than this.

Determined to stand up to his decision he looked at his brother and speak up with a decided tone.

" -Look third brother, I want to save master as much as you do but there is no way I'm doing this by such humiliating way ! We will save master but not with this plan and there's nothing you can say or do to convince me to do this !"

(Time skip)

" -I can't believe you convinced me to do this !" Groaned Hào with a very feminine voice, both of his hand covering his face.

Despite all his best efforts, a few more reasoning and tearful sad puppy eyes from Wujin managed him to given in and following the plan.

When he accepted, with reluctances, the plan he planned at first to turn into a human princess but Sun-Wukong convinced him to rather take a feminine form of his actual appearance because in his logic" the more exotic you look, the more the demon will be interested".

But it was easier said than done, how was he supposed to know what a " female version", or at least a feminine one of him look like ?

This is when Hào got a flash in which he saw someone in green robes who looked similar to him but with more feminine traits, a light peach fur and wings, almond green eyes and short fluffy ears. Again this person was familiar but he wasn't able to remember them, not even their name.

On one hand he was sad to got another memory he can't fully remember but on the other hand this flash give him the solution to his problem and so he changed his appearance to look just like the stranger in his memory and shapeshift to be dressed in a blue and gold chinese dress, he really looked like an exotic princess.

But for some reason he felt like he will regret taking this form.

Then, with his powers, Sun-Wukong created a palanquin and made four clones of himself, he turned them into porters before turning himself into a fly and hiding into the dress's collar while Bajie and Wujin were following their " fake royal suite" from a good distance to stay undercover.

" -Oh shush youngest brother ! I'm telling you, this plan is perfect !" Said Sun-Wukong from his hiding spot." Now don't forget, when we will come across the demon's minions you will make them believe that you are a princess from a foreign land who got lost with her suite while traveling into the country and you will ask them to get you to their master to ask him for shelter for the night. When you meet him and made him accept distract him as much as you can, Wujin, Bajie and me will then attack him when his guard is down and you will profit from the battle to go where master is held captive, free him and then we get all out of here !"

" -Okay, let's just get over with this !" Sighing Hào while making himself ready. But not before murmuring angry."I swear eldest brother, this plan of yours better be working or else I will make you pay for this !"

" -It's will work ! Now get ready the guards are coming !"

(Time skip)

Well turn out it was easier than planned.. At the very moment the demon laid his eyes on Hào he fell under her charm, thinking before him stood the most beautiful and exotic princess he saw in his entire life and immediately welcomed her in his domain with, in Hào opinion, an idiotic smile on his stupid flushed face.

And the distraction, he did it without any effort as barely after he entered into the palace, and Sun-Wukong flew away from his collar to go to the others for the upcoming attack, the demon immediately flirting with him, a LOT of flirting, and thankfully his responses with smiles, giggles and seductive blinks seemed to please him greatly because honestly the fact he had to do such acts with this vile creature made Hào wanted to barf.

But when the demon suddenly grabbed him by his waist to kiss him it was official : He wanted and was going to barf.

But thank the Jade palace his brothers saw this as a good opportunity and attacked the demon who, taken by surprise, tried to counterattack his aggressors, giving Hào the right time to take his leave to find the master.

He found him in the dungeon, when he broke in the cell and freed his master from his chains the monk was staring at him rather shocked to see his youngest disciple in a such appearance. While taking back his normal form Hào promised his master to explain everything but for now they must get out of here.

Exiting the dungeon, the two got up to the main room to see the others disciples and the demon still fighting.

Then the demon turned his head and smiled thinking he saw the beauty he tried to court only to see instead of his beautiful and exotic princess was standing a very male winged creature similar to the princess with the monk he captured, his key to immortality.

That was where he realised he has been tricked. His princess was nothing but an impostor who manipulated him to lead him to a trap to free the monk.

He then got extremely enraged and with his sword charged at the duo, fury in his eyes only to be stopped and pushed away by Hào with his guandao, which was shrunk and hidden into his clothes thanks to Sun-Wukong's power and got his size back at the moment Hào grabbed it.

The demon was about to charge again only to be knocked out by the monkey king's staff and after this the group quickly leave the domain before any guards could come after them.

When they get back to their camp, Hào walked immediately to the nearest water source to cleaned his mouth in hope to make any trace of the demon's kiss going away. He then feeled a hand on his shoulder and turned his head to see his eldest brother smiled at him.

" -See Hào ? My plan worked ! I told you it was perfect !"

Not in the mood for the monkey's attitude, Hào grabbed him by his collar and told him in a menacing tone.

" -Let's be clear Sun-Wukong, what happened in this palace stay in this palace ! We will not talk about this" adventure" ever again got it ? EVER. AGAIN !"

" -Ha ha of course youngest brother don't worry about it !" Laughed the monkey king, not even stunned by the winged being's sudden snapping.

" -Sun-Wukong ? Hào ? Come please ! We need to go quickly before those demons try to attack us again !" Called their master already on his horse with Bajie and Wujin beside him, who packed their belongings ready to leave.

" -Yes master we are coming !" The both of them formally said while joining the group.

During their back on their journey, Hào couldn't help but thinking about the form he taken for distracting the demon and he doesn't know why he but feeled he will really going to regret taking this form in the future.

Chapter End Notes

Oh Hào(Michael) you will absolutely regret having taken this form in the future! XD

Story concept part 2

Chapter Notes

So I got new ideas for the "amnesiac Michael" story concept so I made a second part for the story details.

For this one, it's take place in the second book which take place during Camodiell's "Forsaken AU" I hope you will like it! ^^

-When he get his memory back, Michael promised himself to be a better person and in particulariy a better brother to his siblings but he will still got struggles about his past-self.

-At the end of the journey, Longma the white dragon horse decide to go with Michael to his world and as a dog becoming a "white dragon dog" .

-Longma's dog apparence look like a white wolf with a blue mane, this apparence confuse a lot of people from Michael's world when meeting Longma for the first time, mortals, demons and Mike's siblings alike, and are even more confused by his nearly anthropomorphic behavior since in this world non-anthro wolfs or dogs don't look or behave like this.

-Longma will be an emotional support for Michael during the " Forsaken event".

-Some times after going back to his world Michael, with Longma, will find a very young angel with black wings named Castiel, who was hiding into the woods of Inkwel Isle One completly scared .

-Castiel has been created one year before " forsaken AU" events,when asked what was his meaning for heaven, God just answered " it's a secret you will see when he will be old enough". In fact God created Castiel as a future replacement of Michael because although he knew where Michael is , can bring him back and fix his amnesia he was like " Meh why bother ? I will just create a replacement !". But over the year of his new creation's birth, he quickly become disinterested of him and decide to just kill him along with all the others angels.(Yes in this story God is a big jerk !)

-Since he was new Castiel wasn't in the " be obedient to God" mentality yet so when his creator begin to destroy Heaven and killing his creations, the young angel has done the first thing his instincs tell him to do : flying away from here.

-Castiel is a very curious child but is rather insecure, very shy and is scared to ask questions fearing to be punished because one day Raziel surprised him asking questions and threatened him with " rehabilitation" if he keep doing this because " a good angel listen and obey, questioning things is not tolerated".

-Michael will take Castiel under his wing(no puns intended), but although he will try his best it will be a bit awkward because he is not used to kids but he will eventually bond with him.

-Longma will become protective of Castiel and will be threatening at anyone who may threaten to hurt the young angel.

-Since Michael is still missing at the start of the " Forsaken AU", Phanuel will be the one who will save the others archangels thinking that what Michael would want and would do.

-When the demon from the " journey to the west" world will get to Michael's world to get his revenge on him, he will meet Raziel and will manipulate him to get all the remaining archangels in a isolated place by making Raziel believe he will " help him" to provoke faster a war between both side when in reality he will capture him along with all his siblings and used them as a bait to lead Michael into a trap.

-Longma will be the one who will go find Sun-Wukong to ask him help to fight the demon because now he know Michael's world's location he can travel between this world and his home world thanks to his powers.

-During their sequestration the others archangels will learn the truth about Raziel's intentions and will be very pissed off at him and when they will be saved by Michael and Sun-Wukong, Raziel will not only get a " discussion" with them but also with a very angry Michael. At first he thought Michael will kill him but since Michael sticks to his " no killing unless it's the only option" oath, Michael punished Raziel by putting him in a kind of " house arrest" with Gabriel's group and with Ariel keeping a VERY close eye on him.

-Both Archangels survivors's groups will reconcile, after a long talk with Michael and Longma as the peacekeepers, but Gabriel's group will still prefer not staying at the Casino because it would be too awkward for them.

-After helping Michael with the demon, Sun-Wukong will stay a bit, wanting to know more about Michael's world.

-He will bond with little Castiel by telling him stories about his and Michael's adventures.(I kinda imagine Sun-Wukong being good with kids, I mean when you think about it he was like a dad to his monkeys!)

-Sometimes one or some of the archangels will try to eavesdrop Sun-Wukong's story because they are interested to know about what Michael lived in this other world during those last fourteen years. But Sun-Wukong will bust them quickly and will say with a smirk like " You know, there's no need to hide, if you want to hear my story you can just come here !" and the archangels would come and listen, embarrassed to have been busted.

-After he saw the way both Michael and Sun-Wukong were fighting against the demon during his and his siblings's rescue, Zadkiel will be in total admiration and some time after he will ask both of them with sparkly eyes " Teach me please ?".

-Lucifer will, despite himself, be jealous of Michael's and Sun-Wukong's brotherly relationship but he doesn't want to admit it. Unfortunately others like King Dice or the other siblings will notice it and every time they tell him about it Lucifer will be like " I'm not JEALOUS !" but they will not believe him, heck, even Sun-Wukong will notice his jealousy.

-Sun-Wukong still call Michael " Hào " but it's more like a nickname.

-When Sun-Wukong will officially meet Michael's siblings after their rescue he will look at Barachiel and be like " hey Hào his apparence is the same than the form you ta-" but will be roughly interrupted by Michael who will take the Monkey King aside and whispering to him " Sun-Wukong " dear eldest brother " don't forget we made the promise to not talk about, you know what, ever again !" but the damage was done and Barachiel will be like " Michael ? What does he mean by a " form which got the same apparence than mine " ? Michael ? Mike ? Come on can you just tell me what is he talking about ? Hey ! Where are you going ? Get back there and explain what is this all about ! MICHAEL !".

-The archangels and demons will be disturbed by Michael's change in attitude, for example, after he and Sun-Wukong saved the Archangels, the latter will be choked to see Michael back, Raphael will instinctively go hug him happy to see his oldest brother back and whispering while crying "you're back, you're back, you're really back" before remember Mike don't like hugs but will be surprised by Michael returning the hug and comforting him with a sad SMILE while saying " there there it's alright Raph I'm back, it's gonna be okay I promised!" which will absolutely choked everyone, except Wukong, Longma and Castiel, and they will be like "What? who? when? how? WHAT HAPPENED TO HIM?!" and they will had to learn to accept the fact that Michael changed.

-King Dice will find the hairpin given by the female soldier from women's land to Michael and the conversation will be like :

" Soooo why is this in your belongings ?"

" None of your business"

""Well I find it rather surprising that you have something like this, considering that your hair are not long enough to use it. Or maybe it's something special like a love gift from a lady ?

" Again none. of. Your. BUSINESS !"

" Oh so this is a love gift from a lady ! My my the archangel Michael falling in love during his adventures in another world what a twist ! So what is the lucky lad's name ? She must be someone very patient to put up with you considering your cold attitude !"

" DON'T YOU HAVE A CASINO TO RUN ?!"

Story concept part 3

Chapter Notes

Warning : English is not my first language so sorry if it's confusing ! 😊

Nope, you're not dreaming I 'm back with a new part for this story concept ! 🎉

This part will be about a bunch of ideas I got for the two books.

Recap :

-Book 1 : Amnesiac Michael stuck in the JTTW world and being know as "Háo".

-Book 2 : Michael being back in his world during the "Forsaken AU" events.

Also, I have the pleasure to announce you that a story taking inspiration from this story concept is currently write.

It's called The strange amnesiac pilgrim by PPM2022 on Wattpad !

Don't hesitate to go check it ! 😊

Book 1 :

-Through the group's adventures, demons, when hearing rumors/stories about them, also hear about Háó and particulariary about him being a "breathtaking beauty" creating in some of them a wierd curiosity/fascination(ex : one of the Golden and Silver horned kings) about Háó and because of that Háó is times to times victim of "bride sneatching" aptempts.(aptempts which always fails)

-Háo find the "bride sneatching aptempts" situation very annoying while Sanzang and Wujin find this worrisome and Sun-Wukong and Bajie find this hilarious.

-During the "Red Son adventure", while Háó don't undersatimate Red Son's warrior skills and knew he is dangerous, when the demon child threw declarations like "I'll beat Sun-Wukong and his teammates and then I'll eat the monk and become immortal and I'll take you,Háo, as my bride", Háó just roll his eyes and comment unimpressed "yeah yeah that's cute kid" much to Red Son's frustration to not be taken seriously.

-During the adventure against the 3 demons disguised as immortal Taoists, the three "immortals" tried to convince the king of the city that Háó was a demon in disguise who plan to kill the city's king which make Háó explode in indignation and rage and unleash a big holy energy/aura while yelling at the 3 fake immortals a "how dare you !" speech much to the 3 fake immortals's and Sanzang's group's shock and to the king's amazement.

-After his outburst Háó was also shocked about what happened, he didn't know he can do that, he was also very surprise about his big anger when he was accused of being a demon sure he wasn't happy about it but he don't know why, being accused of being a demon make him personally extremelly angry.

-During the "magic foetus" trial at the begening of the Womanland/Women's kingdom arc, Háo also drank the water from the pregnancy river and end up pregnant like Bajie and Sanzang.

-When Sun-Wukong and Wujing get the "no baby" water, Bajie and Sanzang were able to drink it in time but in Háo's case the baby was born before he could drink the water.

-Háo's baby's birth didn't happened like normal birth go, when Háo felt that the baby was about to be born, a light was slowly coming out off his belly and took a form which end up becoming a baby girl.

-Háo was panicking, not only he didn't know if he was ready to be a father especially with his amnesia problem but also this put him in a incertain position for the journey, how can he keep going with the mission now he had a child.

-Bajie suggested they leave the baby in a village and keep going with the journey to which Háo answered in anger while holding his daughter protectively that there's no way they going to abandon HIS baby(yep he become quickly attached) in a random place to which Sanzang agree with, they can't just abandon a child like that.

-This make Háo having a flashback of his past-self, obeying every order of someone he doesn't manage to remember and killing people in this person's name, men, women and children alike much to his horror and made a silent promise to his daughter that he will protect her no matter what.

-The baby look exactly like Háo but her wings are white instead of brown.

-(Yep, Háo ironically give birth to a light bringer angel)

-When she was born the situation in addition to be alarming was also very awkward for Háo who is not used to kids at all and the old ladies from the village had to teach him a few things about how to handle his baby.

-Háo then got a flashback of someone with white wings who is still can't remember who was in front of him his back turned, making impossible for Háo to see his face, the stranger was surrounded by an big halo of light, he hear indissociables voices becoming louder minutes by minutes before the flash end he hear on one perfectly audible sentence "the Morning Star".

-He give his daughter the name "Chao-Xing" which mean "morning star" in reference to his flashback since his daughter had white wings like the stranger from his flashback.

-Once they leave to keep going with the journey, completely unsure about what to do with the baby, Guan Ying appeared before them telling them that as the journey is too dangerous for a child she can take the baby and keep her in the Jade palace where the baby will be safe and will give her back to Háo once the journey is done and Háo got his memory back.

-After a discussion with the rest of the group, Háo accept and give his daughter to Guan Ying while promising her they will be reunited on day and after Guan Ying and the baby left the group go back on their journey.

-(This idea was inspired from an episode of the 1995 chinese tv serie "journey to the west" in this episode the whole group end up pregnant and unlike in the book didn't get the "no baby" water and give birth, at the end after they leave the Women's kingdom with their babies the group didn't know what to do until Guan Ying appear to tell them she can take the babies with her until they achieved their journey, the group accepted and give the babies to her and promised to the babies that they will see them again. The episode end with the group waking up in a temple realising all this was apparently a dream(?) and the group go back on their journey)

Book 2 :

-Since a dimensional link was created between Michael's world and the JTTW world once Michael go back to his world, demons and deities/immortals from the JTTW world can go to Michael's world.

-A good bunch of demons visit Micheal's world, particulariy the Devil's casino, much to the Devil's at the idea to get new demons costumers.

-Among those new demons costumers are demons that Michael and the rest of Sanzang's group fought creating awkward moments when they saw each other at the casino.

-The demon that Michael fooled by disguising himself as a woman to save Sanzang(see the one-shot "the plan"), is also one of those new costumers in the casino, ever since this adventure he kind become a laughing stock among demons, when he and Michael saw eaxh other at the casino both are always thinking extremely embarassed "Don't speak to him, don't look at him, don't even notice hi, just keep doing what you were doing and act as if he wasn't there ! " and both try to act as if the other didn't exist.

-After noticing Lucifer's jealousy over Sun-Wukong's and Michael's brotherly bond, Sun-Wukong decided to had a little "talk" with Lucifer.

-During this "talk" Sun-Wukong strongly teased Lucifer about his jealousy, which Lucifer try to deny, and Sun-Wukong pushed his buttons to the point Lucifer snapped and in his anger unwinggly admit he was jealous of Michael's and Sun-Wukong bond.

-With this answer Sun-Wukong then had a talk with Michael and after a while the Monkey King managed to convince Michael to had a conversation with Lucifer to talk things out between them.

-During Michael's and Lucifer's talk, there was a lot of yelling, awkwardness, reaproches, accusations, denials, confessions and tears.

-At the end of the conversation things were put straight between Michael and Lucifer, while it will take a LONG time for a proper reconciliation, things between Michael and Lucifer are now more stable.

-When Michael go back to his world, he ask Guan Ying to look after Chao-Xing a bit more 'cause he wanted to make sure first that it will be safe for his daughter to live in his world with him.

-Once the tensions/conflicts between his siblings were took care of, Michael, with Longma's and Wukong's help, contacted Guan Ying to tell her that his world is now safe enough for Chao-Xing and she can give her back to him.

-Michael's siblings, Lucifer included, were completly shocked when they learn that Michael had a biological daughter.

-Lucifer got a "Lucifer E.X.E stopped working" moment whent he met Chao-Xing and saw she was a light bringer angel AND learn that Michael sort of named her after him.

-Since Micheal "adopted" Castiel, the young angel became a big brother to Chao-Xing.

-Baby Chao-Xing having bonding moments with her family, Lucifer and Sun-Wukong included.

-Longma being also very protective of Chao-Xing.

-Wujing, Bajie and Sanzang going into Michael's world to give him a friendly visit and meeting Michael's siblings.

-Sanzang's group's adventures being assemble in a very popular book.

-Michael being know in the book as "Háo the strange pilgrim" or "Háo the winged pilgrim".

-All the group's adventures being in the book, the "Michael taking a feminine form(aka Barachiel's appearance) to save Sanzang from a demon" adventure.

-Raziel finding a copy of the book and sharing it with the rest of his siblings, Lucifer included.

-Michael's siblings reading about Michael's adventures in details as "Háo" and reading about the "Michael taking a feminine form(aka Barachiel's appearance) to save Sanzang from a demon" one creating a VERY awkward moment with Michael trying to avoid his siblings when the latters try to confront him about this adventure.

-Sun-Wukong looking in the background finding the situation hilarious.

What if sequel AU: Lego Monkie Kid crossover

Chapter Notes

Warning : English is not my first language so sorry if it's confusing ! ☺

A "What if sequel" of my Lil' Lucifer/Forsaken AU X JJTW crossover: Amnesiac Michael AU!

This "what if sequel" is based on this question:

"What if the Amnesiac Michael AU took place in the Lego Monkie Kid version of JJTW?"

This AU take place centuries after the "Amnesiac Michael AU" and during the season 3 of LMK.

If you want to use this AU go ahead! ^^

Lil' Lucifer AU belong to brightgoat

Forsaken AU belong to camodielsart

Journey to the West belong to Wu Cheng En

Cuphead belong to studio MDHR

Monkie Kid belong to Lego

So, this "what if" take place at the season three of Monkie Kid.

With the big threat of Lady Bone Demon on the world, Wukong decided to contact a "old friend of him" to ask for help to had more allies on their side against Lady Bone Demon and to help with MK's training.

To the group's confusion, the "friend" they are looking for is in another universe, to which they get thank to an old scroll in Wukong's possession.

They arrived in a place called "Inkwell Isles", a bunch of islands populated by all kind of people/creatures all living in a "vintage styled society".

Once the group found Wukong's friend, they were shocked, even amazed in MK's and Tang's case, to find out that the friend in question is none other than Michael, known back in their world as "Háo the winged disciple".

Although he was happy to see Wukong again, Michael was also upset against Wukong 'cause he didn't had news from him for a good time which result in a comic scene during which an angry Michael run after a smuggling Wukong.

After that and the situation was explained to him, Michael accepted to help Wukong to train MK and to help the group to defeat Lady Bone Demon.

So for some times the group stayed on Inkwell Isles while Wukong and Michael trained MK before going back to their world once the training was done.

Michael go with the group along with his daughter Chao-Xing, who followed the group and her father without them knowing, and this mark the start of their journey against Lady Bone Demon in the Monkie Kid world.

AU details:

->Lil's Lucifer/Forsaken au world in the AU:

-After years of staying at the casino, or in one of the isles for Gabriel's group, the remaining angels worked hard to get back on their feets.

-Over the years, the survivors archangels searched for other survivors who would be in hiding and worked together to build a place to call home.

-They established themself on an inhabited island of Inkwell Isles and give to their city the name "New Eden".

-Michael is the leader of the angels and rule the community along with the other archangels.

-Unlike from back when God was around, the community's rules are way less strict and give to the angels more liberty.

-Ex: Angels can now fall in love and be in a relationship.

-Castiel is Michael's direct disciple and is one of New Eden's protectors

-Angels are now encouraged to explore and develop their abilities.

-Souls of good people are now sent to New Eden after their death and became angels.

-New young angels are created by the archangels who had worked on their creation abilities over the centuries and a "mentor system" was created: when young angels are created, they are given under the care of an archangel who named them and became their mentor.

-Regarding the conflict with Hell: Because God forsaken this world and Heaven was destroyed, the remaining angels and the demons agreed that the big war had no meaning anymore and decided to establish a somewhat peace treaty, it's not a TOTAL peace as there's still some bad blood and tensions but both sides agreed in the treaty to stop trying to massacre each other.

-The Angels and demons "conflicts" happen now in a more "shoulder angel/shoulder devil" way, each side only goes to mess with the other when they try to advise/tempt mortals.

-Since the AU takes place centuries after the "forsaken AU", many characters from the "casino cups AU" had passed away long time ago which include Cuphead and Mugman, however, the irony of fate seems to always make the cup brothers's descendants to take a job at the casino.

-King Dice is still around 'cause the Devil didn't want to lose his right hand man, not that he will admit it, he made King Dice sign a special contract which turned him into a demon, making him immortal, the latter doesn't mind it at all he is pleased by the situation in fact.

-Michael's daughter, Chao-Xing, developing her potential as a lightbringer angel.

-ex: Chao-Xing can use light as a weapon and can make magic with it.

-Chao-Xing's angel name: Heyl (name meaning: "shining one" or "light bringer" or "morning star")

-Michael in this AU: Through the years Michael worked very hard to become a better brother, a good leader/protector for the angels and a good father to Chao-Xing, he still had little fears and regrets about his past self but is more at peace than years ago.

->Story details:

-MK being trained by Michael and other angels in New Eden.

-An extatic Tang asking hundred of questions to Michael about his adventures with Wukong during the JTTW events.

-Michael being shocked when seeing Sandy, Pigsy, Tang and Mei 'cause he saw they were reincarnations(descendants in Mei's case) of the rest of the JTTW group.

-Wukong still calling Michael "Hào" as an affectionate nickname.

-MK getting involved into Michael's world(which included demons's shenanigans) shenanigans during his stay.

-Chao-Xing, Mei and MK becoming very good friends.

-Michael throwing the "don't you fucking dare" stare at Wukong when the latter was about to tell MK and the rest of the LMK team about the "Hào disguising himself as a woman to seduce a demon to save San-Zang" adventure.

-Michael and Chao-Xing coming with the LMK group to help them to defeat Lady Bone Demon.

-Red Boy seeing his bridesnatching attempt of Michael in the JTTW events as an embarrassing childhood crush.

-Mei teasing Red Boy about his "childhood crush" on Michael.

-When the group meet Jin & Yin during the season 3 events, one of the two demon brothers get flirty with Michael, much to the latter's dismay, 'cause back in the JTTW events one of the two brothers tried to bridesnatch Michael.(who between Jin & Yin tried to bridesnatch Michael and then get flirty with him is up to whoever who use this idea).

-Michael having often arguments with Sun Wukong 'cause the later hide important informations from the group.

-Macaque's opinion about Michael: Macaque doesn't like Michael, he think Michael took his place as Wukong's best friend/brother.

-Michael and Ne Zha having a deep respect for each other as warriors.

-Michael finding hundred excuses to not be on stage and to stay backstage in the episode "benched".

-Michael and Chao-Xing fighting against Jin & Yin backstage while Tang face Macaque in the episode "Benched".

-Michael having a heart to heart with Macaque in "Time to Be Warriors".

-Michael and Chao-Xing facing Lady Bone Demon with the LMK group in the final battle.

-The LMK group(Michael and Chao-Xing included) all celebrating together after the defeat of Lady Bone Demon.
